

TEN

Volunteer, Travel, Learn

HEALTH PROGRAMS

Our network is a collaborative platform where professionals from various healthcare fields come together to share their knowledge, skills, and experiences with the ultimate goal of promoting health, daily functioning, participation, well-being, and an enhanced quality of life among communities in developing countries.

KEY OBJECTIVES

- 1 Develop and enrich health and rehabilitation services in public institutions and local communities.
- 2 Promote a mutual and long-term learning process of healthcare and community professionals.
- 3 Forge partnerships with Israeli and international associations, universities, and organizations, while connecting local resources to enhance our efforts and create lasting impact in host countries.

We welcome seasoned healthcare professionals for five weeks from Israel and Jews from the diaspora who specialize in fields such as occupational therapy, physiotherapy, and speech and language pathology. Fields of engagement encompass pediatrics, rehabilitation (neurologic, orthopedic), disabilities, etc.

Volunteering settings include hospitals, community clinics, health and rehabilitation centers, community-based rehabilitation organizations, special education schools, settings for children with disabilities, and more.

For further details, visit our website www.tenvolunteers.org

